

Alberta Oilfield Waste Form Frequently Asked Question

Directive 058: Oilfield Waste Management Requirements for the Upstream Petroleum Industry

January 2015

Q1. Are there additional options for the AER Alberta Oilfield Waste Form other than the hard-copy and dot matrix forms available from AER Information Services?

A1. Yes. Information Services will continue to provide hard-copy and dot matrix forms. However, licensees also have the following options:

- Develop an electronic version of the form either in house or through a third party.
- Download the fillable form provided on the AER website.

These two options may be used provided the following conditions are met:

- The electronic form must mirror the most recent version of the AER Alberta Oilfield Waste Form.
- The licensee must follow the completion instructions identified on the back of the AER Alberta Oilfield Waste Form.
- The licensee must be able to produce a printed or electronic copy of the form and supporting data for two years after the date the waste was transported.
- There must be a unique numbering system to ensure that the licensee can track and reconcile its waste shipments.
